McClory Notes Constitution As An Emphasis to Teachers

The "Teaching the American System of Government" in our educational system was discussed at a meeting last evening by State Senator Robert McClory (Republican, Lake Bluff), one of the panelists in the regional meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards held at the Auburn High School in Rockford. Senator McClory called attention to the existing statutory authority which the legislator has set forth, and emphasized the importance of inculcating in our young people the underlying principles of our American system.

Senator McClory recommended that greater emphasis be placed upon the Constitution today in our school system, and called attention to the unique character of our Federal Constitution and noted the dramatic sequence of events which resulted in its final approval and ratification.

Senator McClory stated in part that "no free nation has risen to the cultural and economic heights of the United States of America, and no free nation has survived as long a period of history as our nation founded in liberty. The privileges which we take for granted were secured by blood and sacrifice, and the appreciation of our system must receive even greater emphasis in our school systems today as we combat the forces of Communism at home and abroad."

Narrow Bridge Causes Two Autos To Be Side-Swiped

An accident involving two cars attempting to pass each other on the narrow second bridge north of Rte. 173 on Lake Ave., Channel Lake, occurred Saturday, Oct. 21 at 2:15 a.m.

Democrats Hold Meeting Tonight

The Democratic Club of Antioch Township announced that an "Operation Kennedy" program will be held tonight at 8 p.m. at Mark Turner's on Rts. 173 and 45.

The speaker for the evening will be Waukegan attorney, Stanley Durka. Introduction of the speaker will be made by Mrs. Ray Jadrich, Democratic County Chairwoman. Mark Turner has been appointed Democratic Chairman of Antioch in the "Operation Kennedy" Program. Mr. Clark Dykes of Libertyville township is the chairman for "Operation Kennedy" in Lake County under the national program.

The public, it is reported by Democratic officials concerned with this project, are urged to attend this meeting.

Ronald S. White, 17, and David Horton, 17, both of Antioch were going south on Lake Ave. when the side-swiping accident happened with the car of John W. Bierman, 40, of Channel Lake.

White lost control of his auto and it careened into a telephone pole on the west side of Lake Ave. and then smashed into a ditch. Although the car had to be towed away, neither White nor Horton received anything other than minor injuries.

Bierman's car remained intact and stayed on the road. Since the bridge is too narrow to permit proper passage of automobiles, no tickets for violations were given, the Waukegan sheriff's office reported.

Local Youths Register In Legion Drum Corps

Another session was held recently at the Antioch Legion Home for boys from 9 to 13 wishing to join the Legion Drum Corps. The attendance registered five boys for bugles and four boys for drums, which was considered a good showing for the second session, it was reported.

The next session will be held Saturday, October 28, from 10 to 12 noon at the Legion Home.

Resident's Son Ends Air Force Training

Airman Ronald E. Schaefer, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis N. Schaefer, 1019 Main St., Antioch, Illinois, has completed his initial course of Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Texas. He has been selected to attend the technical training course for Aircraft and Missile Maintenance, at Amarillo AFB, Texas.

Airman Schaefer is a graduate of Antioch High School.

Basic airmen at Lackland are selected for specialized training at technical schools on the basis of their interests and aptitudes. They are reassigned to the school after five weeks of basic training. At the technical schools they are given additional military training along with the technical instructions.

Upon completion of special technical training at an Air Force Technical Training Center, airmen are assigned to operational units of the USAF Aerospace Force.

Chicago Thieves Steal Valuables, Strip Automobile

A 1961 Corvette, reported stolen out of Chicago last Thursday, was found stripped of its transmission, engine, tires and accessories about 200 feet west of Grass Lake bridge in a wooded area, Oct. 20.

A Mr. Pawlik of Grass Lake reported finding the auto near his garage which had been broken into. Apparently the thieves had used his garage to dismantle the automobile.

Mr. Pawlik again reported to the Waukegan Sheriff's Office on Saturday, Oct. 21, that his house had also been broken into. A radio, camera and record-player were reported missing.

The thieves had removed a screen and entered the house by a window. It is believed that both car and house thefts are linked to the same individuals.

Barbershop Quartets Will Sing in Antioch

The Barber Shop Chapter of Waukegan, meeting here in Antioch Monday, Nov. 6, has been recently attempting to secure local interest in their barbershop activities. It is hoped that enough persons in the area will eventually form a community barbershop group. Sergeant Bridges of Waukegan, a Barbershop Chapter representative, said.

Antioch High School Board Makes Contractor Payments

The Antioch Township High School Board met last Wednesday, Oct. 18, and took official action on the brick to be used on the high school's addition. The brick selected was Hy-Tex from Peoria (No. 344 Weatherproof). Since the Board is allotted $75 per thousand bricks, the price range of the Hy-Tex of $70 to $72 was acceptable. The Hydraulic Press Brick Company is the maker of the brick.

Arrangements were also made for the first payments to be given to the Engelhardt and Carey Contractors. The amounts to be paid are $27,898 and $2,423 respectively.

Samples of lockers for the team room were also inspected by the Board. Up for consideration are All Steel Equip and DeBourgh lockers.

Action concerning the hardware to be used in the new addition was also forthcoming. Pending clarification of some items, the cost of the hardware will run close to $9,900. The hardware will be purchased from the Edward Hines Lumber Co. of Skokie, Ill.

Somewhat belated, but nevertheless important, was the Parent-Teachers meeting at the High School in which the parents attended their children's classes, carrying out much the same program entailed in a regular school day. The classes, in this instance, lasted only four minutes. Two hundred and twenty-five parents attended the High School's open house.

The parents were guided through the school by members of the Student Council, who as always, extended excellent courtesy and helpful aids.

Resident Named HF Representative

Mrs. Helen Kopriva has recently accepted the chairmanship of the Antioch Township Heart Fund Drive. Donald Erickson, director of the Heart Council of Lake County, an affiliate of the Chicago Heart Association, made the announcement.

Mrs. Kopriva has earned the Award of Merit for three consecutive years, and is well-qualified for the position, it was reported.

She will soon name more zone chairmen, who will help to raise contributions to aid researchers in their fight against the nation's number one killer. The work of these chairmen will culminate in February on Heart Sunday, when, it is hoped, everyone in Antioch Township will be contacted for donations.

30,000 members throughout the U. S. and in several Canadian provinces. Although the primary purpose of the Society is to encourage development of Barber Shop Quartets, most beginners sing in a chorus until they gain enough confidence to try their vocal wings with three other neophytes in a quartet.

Army Staff Sergeant From Antioch Retires at West Point Academy

U.S. PTA To Show Film Of Communist History

"Nightmare in Red," an educational film dealing with the development of Communism from its inception to its present and dreadful state will be shown at the Antioch High School PTA meeting, Wednesday night, November 1.

The Parent Teacher Association, sponsor of the film, assures viewers an educationally entertaining evening.

Mrs. Jeanette Tulumello and Mr. Lucien McLean, both of the high school's history department, will give brief introductory and concluding remarks concerning the film.

Staff Sergeant Fred Elam, Assistant Truck Master in the Transportation Division at the U. S. Military Academy, retired from the Army recently after more than 30 years of active service. During his retirement ceremony, Sergeant Elam was presented the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service while at the Academy.

He was assigned to Service Company of the 1st Battle Group, 1st Infantry, at the time of his retirement and will now reside at 239 Bridgewood Drive, Antioch, Ill.

The sergeant entered the Army on June 4, 1931, at Fort Sill, Okla. His overseas assignments have included service in Hawaii, the Philippines, Japan and with the 24th Infantry Division in Korea during the war.

Woman Fires, Lurker Runs

Mrs. Harold Golden who lives east of Deep Lake Road on Golden Road returned home Monday night, Oct. 23, around 11 p.m. to find someone lurking about her garage.

She ran into the house and returned outside with a gun. Seeing the dark figure pausing near her still-running auto, she fired.

The figure "lit out" across an open field. Mrs. Golden was almost certain she hit the intruder.

New Licenses Go To Drivers

Midnight Tuesday, Oct. 31, is the deadline for submission of applications for reassignment of current motor vehicle license numbers, the office of Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier reminded motorists today.

Application blanks may be obtained at such outlets as automobile dealers, banks, currency exchanges, newspaper offices, notaries public and justices of the peace.

For a motorist to retain his number from year to year, the law requires that the application be received in Secretary Carpentier's office prior to November 1.

With the adoption of the letter-digit numbering system for all numbers over 999,999, a former practice of personally notifying the holders of the first 50,000 numbers has been discontinued. The new numbering system created many additional desirable numbers than existed earlier, a large percentage of which are not recognizable as such.

AWC 'Tag Day' Raises $233

"Doughnut Day" taggers in Antioch raised $233 for the benefit of the Salvation Army on the annual tag day held June 9, reports Mrs. William Brook, Box H, chairman for Antioch.

Mrs. Brook and the Salvation Army expressed their deep appreciation for the generous response of the volunteer taggers and contributors. The drive was sponsored by the Antioch Woman's Club in Antioch.

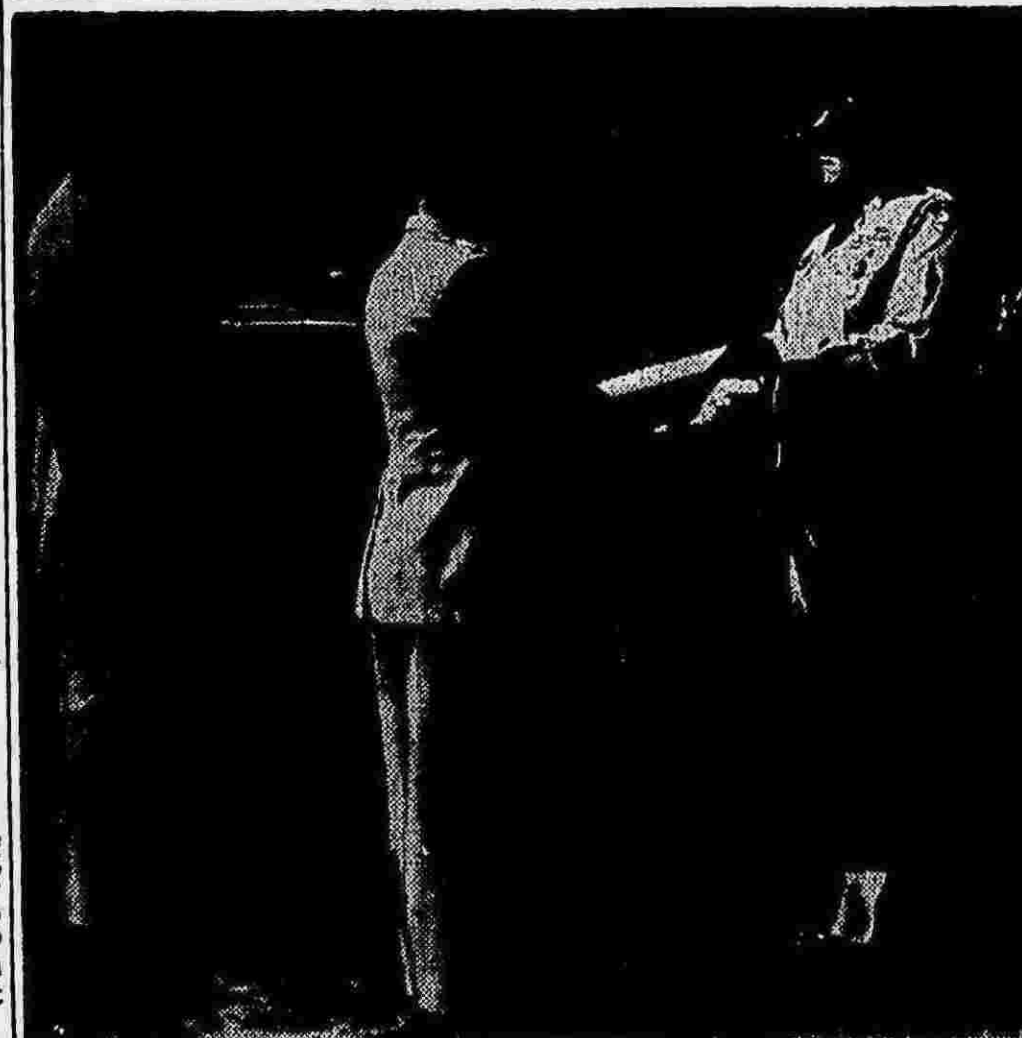

Total "Doughnut Day" contributions amounted to $168,168.40, according to Mrs. Henry D. Paschen, general chairman of the drive. Tagging in the suburbs was organized under the direction of Mrs. Earl O. Ehrhardt of Elmhurst, suburban area chairman. The goal for the drive was $168,000.

The drive was held throughout Chicago and 151 suburbs in Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake, McHenry, Will and Lake (Ind.) counties.

"Doughnut Day" contributions help support the Salvation Army's program of emergency assistance and social-welfare services offered to the needy in the Greater Chicago area.

During the past year the Salvation Army reached more than 170,000 persons with direct assistance. All services are given without regard for race or religion.

THE WALL

There is a wall in the city of Berlin that is 28 miles long. It is made of concrete, brick and barbed wire. Uniformed men on the eastern side of the wall face west with loaded weapons in their hands. Over a million persons are being forced to remain behind that wall. Their city has been turned into a concentration camp.

Under the original post-war agreement of the four powers, Russia, France, Great Britain and the United States, that wall, or any like it, should not be there.

Why is it that its existence is tolerated?

By permitting its existence are we preventing war? It is our opinion that we are not. This wall that separates an entire city, hideous to all lovers of freedom, has caused more political frustration, more social unrest, more tragic deaths, more national anguish than any other international crisis in the last year.

Under the four-power agreement, the city of Berlin was to remain free in all sectors for the passage of all of the city's inhabitants. Now there is a wall which no one is allowed to go beyond. The mere existence of this obstruction, we feel, is a flagrant violation of the four-power agreement.

The wall is there because one stubborn human being with the intellectual impetus of a cretin wants it there. He is going to "show us." He has shown us.

True, the United States bolstered its garrison, barked loud, held ceremonies and marches, sent its Vice-President to review the situation. What has happened? The wall is still there.

In our compromise with Khrushchev to let his wall of defiance stand, we feel we have sold out a cornerstone of our historic integrity.

Would it mean war to act against the wall? Perhaps. But Khrushchev risked war when he put it up. Nothing but a mild protest from Washington was heard, plus the indignant protest of the United States press.

If one wall is permitted to enslave a million, the result may be that other walls will enslave the entire free world and we will eventually be forced to fight our way out of it. It would be better we feel, to stand up to the wall now, to crumble Khrushchev's concrete bluff before it stretches 28,000 miles around the globe.

The only salvation of our public honor and our public pledge to all the peoples of the earth is for the Kennedy administration to demand that Khrushchev take down that wall or have it battered down.

Or perhaps we are wrong. Perhaps it would be better to succumb to the wall, to endorse it, to grow accustomed to it over a period of years and eventually, with its familiar sight constantly before us, advocate other walls until our children's children are raised in barbed wire playpens. We would never have to fight a war then. We would never have to die. Only our conscience, our honor, our decency, our religion, our freedom, our word as a nation would die. Would it really be better to be a live slave submerged in a system of communism than for some of us to die for the common heritage of Valley Forge, Shiloh, Chapultepec, Vimy Ridge, Bataan, Pork Chop Hill?

We think not.

"N the Goblins'll git cha, ifn you don't watch out." While the world is worryin' about something to do with 100 Megatons, the kids in my neighborhood are trying to figure out what they're going to wear next Tuesday nite. Sportsmanship

By Mike Brooks

While attending the football games this year, I have noticed the extremely good sportsmanship displayed by the teams and supporters of Antioch High.

Sportsmanship is defined by Webster as the "qualities and behavior befitting of a sportsman." It is a quality that a winning squad must have before it can be considered a thoroughly good team, and that side-line supporters should also possess in a good measure. Poor sportsmanship gives a school a bad reputation and reflects on the community as well. It would seem to me that much of the undesirable behavior on the side-lines occurs among older citizens, perhaps not even residents of the village, and certainly not members of the present student body which the team represents.

I have yet to see any Antioch supporters standing on the opposition's side, heckling and swearing at the players, coaches, referees, and others on the sidelines. I hope I never do. Even though our team loses its game, we can be proud because we know the boys fight hard and that our fans display good sportsmanship.

If these apparently "grown-up" men and "know-it-alls" want to spout off, it would seem that they should do it on their own sidelines—unless it may be that they are ashamed to act that way in front of people who know them by name. If these same men were asked to get out and play their hearts out for four quarters on a gridiron, referee a football game, or coach a team, the majority of them would quietly slip away.

A quip appearing in "The Goodland News," Goodland, Kansas, stated, "When you hear some folks blow and brag, you are reminded of the time the flea said to the elephant, 'Boy, didn't we shake that new bridge when we crossed it?'"

Let's hope our team never receives the support of some of these "fleas" we have seen hanging around at games lately.

Antioch fans, I salute you for your good sportsmanship and support even when the chips are down!"

The Boys in the Back Room

By Jay Nash

There are few men in villages and honored in this life to work as a printer. Men can seldom take the living speech of everyday life, and distill it into a sort of history all of its own. Men find it hard to contend with pouring molten lead into casts, sweating and straining over uncooperative presses. Men (and in our case, women) are few who sit at linotype machines, slugging out the everyday language of America into hot print. Yes, bending the separate will of machines to fit the necessities of a newspaper is indeed an unusual livelihood.

I have seen these men, hard, ink-stained, emblazoned with the fury of the roaring presses, gently fondle out-of-date newspapers as if they were children of their own. I have seen them make up the pages of a newspaper as if they were creating the earth every day.

Their language is not that of the parlor circle. Sometimes they do not shave. They fume and fight for their own way of doing things.

All of the great editors and writers of America, from Henry Justin Smith to Ernest Hemingway were molded by such men; they were literally made into reputations by those who put their words into steel casts, and lifted them down to the presses, churning their phrases out in thousands of newspaper copies.

Printers have a noisy glory all of their own; one that creaks and shudders and roars and dies when the paper is put to sleep. Unfortunately, the unemotional slap of a newspaper folding machine is the only pat on the back they ever receive.

The amazing thing is that without the pressmen of America we would not know who was born yesterday, died this morning or who did an unkind or heroic thing in the afternoon.

A teenager recently asked me whether it would be profitable to become a printer. It was a difficult question to answer. Financially, it can or cannot be lucrative, but there are other rewards. The poet, Francois Cardini, once said: "The acquisition of wealth is not the criterion to success."

My only answer would be that if

The American Experience

By Ray Fuechner

A basic prototype of the American national character is the figure commonly referred to as the Yankee. Yet how many of us know what is meant by this term or what it is supposed to represent? Where did the name Yankee originate and what was meant by the term? It might be interesting to pause to briefly examine the origin, genesis, and development of the figure of the Yankee in early American history.

In Constance Rourke's excellent study of the American national character, "American Humor," we find some answers to this question. Originally, it seems, in the late eighteenth century, the Yankee was understood to be, for all intents and purposes, a peddler; a rather shrewd trader, sly and full of wit.

During the American Revolution this myth of the Yankee suddenly grew and developed into a personage much more complex. He came to be a character who was at once practical and yet devoted to swapping almost merely for the sake of making changes; he was a practitioner of that peculiarly American pastime, the practical joke; he was a masquerader ready to assume many roles, a teller of tall tales; but withal, he was sober and cautious.

The notion of the Yankee seemed to spring up as an amalgam of American characteristics and it is difficult to trace the origin of the term to any specific time or place, just as it is impossible today to determine how, when, or where the tune "Yankee Doodle" originated. The beginnings are obscure, but as Constance Rourke says: "out of the travail of the Revolution by a sudden agreement the unformed American nation pictured itself as homely and comic."

Foreign observers commenting upon the new nation added their impressions to the store of traits which came to characterize the Yankee. Such noted travellers as Charles Dickens, Frances Trollope, and Alexis de Tocqueville recorded their impressions of the American, the Yankee. He emerged a figure "Astute and simple, gross and rambling" who could nonetheless talk his way through any situation.

Even a specific costume came to be associated with this Yankee—"he wore a white bell-crowned hat, a coat with long tails that was usually blue, eccentric red and white trousers, and long boot- straps. Today we see this figure on posters, billboards, in magazines, editorial cartoons, as Uncle Sam."

It remained, however, for a now forgotten actor, George Handel Hill, to more firmly fix the characteristic traits of the Yankee. A collector one enjoyed the labor of machines and the living things that can be made from them, if one could take pride in work that is published for the whole world to see, if one got a chill up the spine when the heavy presses rolled, then it is the only job to ever hold.

Elected officials have two basic responsibilities. One is to faithfully discharge the administrative duties of office, the other to serve the best interests of the people. To do either they must demonstrate a willingness to consider all the facts about any issue on which a decision must be reached.

The policies of state government have direct influence on every citizen in Illinois and incorporate sufficient cause for the people to elect these candidates who have demonstrated a responsiveness to the serious responsibilities of the office they seek.

The freedom and rights of the citizens of this country have no greater warranty than that which comes from the basic philosophies of our political system. The two major political parties in our country will forever restrain one another from becoming too powerful. This has been demonstrated time and again and is the strength of our democracy.

History clearly records that neither party has been right on every issue 100 per cent of the time. These differences are healthy and a comforting assurance that the issue to be decided will be discussed, weighed and considered on its merits and its consequences. But when the final vote is cast, there should always be two prime considerations—is it best for the people, is it best for the state.

If one political party becomes enamored with self interests, it is the people who suffer. I do not believe that any issue can be decided strictly on party lines and always represent the best interests of the people.

It should be the relevant facts and the attendant consequences viewed in terms of general welfare that determine passage or defeat. When these become our basic reasoning processes in reaching decisions, then we will have attained the position of true responsibility. We will have fulfilled the faith people have invested in us when they elected us to the offices we hold.

I doubt if there ever was a time in the history of our state when heavier responsibilities rested upon us to exhibit qualities of understanding and cooperation than the present. It is these attributes that must guide the members of the Illinois General Assembly as they consider the vital problems now before them in the current special session of the legislature.

Letters to The Editor

TO THE EDITOR,
Antioch News,

Isn't this a wonderful world! Today I listened to television and I discovered by buying Maggie Rutkins bread, I could save one half hour a day in time. By using various other products I could do the same.

Forty-eight half hours make a twenty-four hour period. Twenty-four times fourteen makes a two week period.

What am I supposed to do with all this saved time? Oh, yes! I am of stories, and author of many sketches, Hill eventually put together his material and went on stage to perform his monologues for the entertainment of New England audiences in the 1820's. For his lectures Hill "continued to wear the flaxen wig, the red-white-and-blue costume" which we now associate with Uncle Sam.

Thus by the 1830's and 1840's a folklore figure "representative" of the American character had taken shape. The Yankee came to be "not the crackerbox philosopher," but a man "noticeably out in the world," a man of action, a doer.

Since that time the figure of the Yankee and the notions which we associate with the term have undergone many alterations and additions, but a good deal of the American character was embodied in the Yankee, in the symbol of Uncle Sam. It was a good character, rugged and determined, yet not without wit and the ability to laugh at oneself. I wonder seriously whether as much can be said for the American character today?

Blind Need More Trained Personnel

Helen Keller, who serves actively as Counselor to the American Foundation for the Blind, states "It is tragic that only half the conditions which cause loss of sight are understood and, as a result, there has not been discovered a sufficient remedy for thousands of injured eyes. The need of research and more trained personnel remain imperative."

'62 CORVAIR MONZA

NEW FACE, SAME SPORTING HEART

We might as well tell you straight off: Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think that lets you out? Maybe. Maybe not.

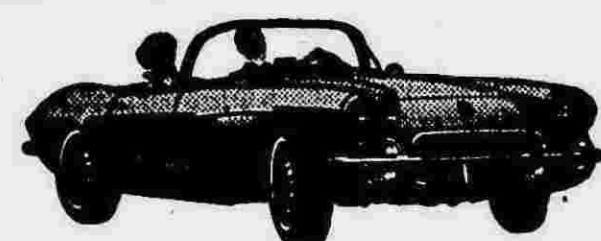

Until you've driven one, you really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land. The air-cooled rear engine sees to that. You swing around curves flat as you please. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Positraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, levelly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes.

Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual sunshades and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper.

So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we? If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.

A New World of Worth

And here's America's only thoroughbred sports car, the '62 CORVETTE. We warn you: If you drive a Corvette after your first sampling of a Corvair, you may well end up a two-car man. And who could blame you?

JOINT OWNERSHIP OF REAL ESTATE PROPERTY IN ILLINOIS

In Illinois, real estate owned together by two or more persons is usually held in a "joint tenancy" or in a "tenancy in common." Each method of ownership has its peculiar characteristics and rules, and it is well for all of us who may own property with others to be familiar with some of the general principles applicable to them.

Joint Tenancy

Assume that John Carey and his wife, Cecelia, are going to purchase a house and lot. If the deed is made to them "as joint tenants," this means that they own the property together, and that upon the death of the first, the other will automatically become the sole owner of the house and lot.

If, for example, John dies first, Cecelia owns the whole property. John's children, or other natural objects of his bounty and his creditors will no longer have rights in or against it. Cecelia will be free to dispose of the house and lot, and if she does not, at her death her heirs or other beneficiaries will become the owners.

Tenancy in Common

If the deed to John and Cecelia does not expressly state that they are to be joint tenants, then they become "tenants in common," for it requires an explicit provision to create a joint tenancy. Like joint tenants, tenants in common own the property together, but each tenant in common owns his interest absolutely and can control what shall happen to it.

If John predeceases Cecelia as a tenant in common, John's interest passes pursuant to his will, or, if he has no will, to his heirs pursuant to Illinois law. As a result, Cecelia may own only one-half of the house and lot after John's death.

During the existence of a joint tenancy or tenancy in common, each tenant owns an undivided share of the whole estate, and has the right to the possession and enjoyment of the whole property to the extent of his interest, including any rents and profits derived from the property.

Termination of Joint Tenancy

A joint tenancy may be terminated by the mutual consent of the parties, or by one of the tenants conveying or mortgaging his interest in the property. A levy and sale pursuant to a judgment against one co-tenant will also terminate the tenancy.

Termination of a joint tenancy destroys the right of survivorship, and a tenancy in common is automatically created. A later reconveyance to the tenant who destroyed the joint tenancy does not re-establish the joint tenancy relationship.

Tax Considerations

The advisability of taking property in joint tenancy or tenancy in common cannot be answered in generalities, since each case depends on individual circumstances, considered in collection with many technical factors. Tax consequences of joint tenancy have become particularly important these days. It is advisable to obtain competent legal advice before property is purchased jointly with others.

This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law. (The names used in this series are fictitious.) The Illinois State Bar Association, 424 South 2nd St., Springfield, Ill., has published a pamphlet entitled "Joint Ownership" which will be sent free to any person who requests it.)

Illinois boasts more than 130 public and private institutions of higher learning. Public school enrollment is nearly two million. More than one-fifth of the state's total revenue and one-half of local revenue is spent for education.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of chantilly lace, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, long sleeves, and fitted bodice adorned with tiny pearls and sequins, and a full, floor length skirt fashioned in rows of lace. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a jeweled crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchid, stephanotis and ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Charles Hucker and bridesmaids were Miss Judy Fath and Miss Sharon Wood. Junior bridesmaids were Leanne Pavel and Gloria Dewar. All were attired in sapphire blue satin sheaths with matching overskirts and hats. Barbara Pavel and Jill Fath served as flower girls.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert J. Wagner of Chilton. The bride, of Wilmot, was given in marriage by her brother, John Drnek of Rockford.

Her gown of white satin brocade was styled with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline, long, tapered sleeves, and a dome shaped skirt with straight front and unpressed pleats at the side, falling to a chapel train. A headpiece of orange blossoms held her elbow length veil and she carried white orchids, white roses and sweetheart roses.

Miss Eleanor Gramling of Milwaukee was maid of honor. Her gown was an emerald green, velvet sheath with satin cummerbund falling into a sash with a rose at the back. Her green satin headpiece was fashioned with roses and short veiling. She carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums and natural wheat.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Bernard Zeihen Jr., and Mrs. John Fischer, and flower girl, Joanna Drnek of Riverside, N. J., were all gowned the same as the maid of honor.

Benjamin Wagner of Appleton, served his brother as best man, and groomsmen were Roger Mueller, Richard Kampfer and James Gower. Donald Hoffman and Robert Reiff were ushers.

BEST IN THE WORLD

Anyone who believes that a solution to a nation's medical problems is to put government in charge should read, word for word, an article in the July issue of Nation's Business by Dr. E. Lloyd Dawe.

Dr. Dawe—physician, surgeon and psychiatrist—is of English birth. He received his medical education in London, served four years as a medical officer in the British Army, and entered practice under the British National Health Service—the government body which administers England's program of socialized medicine. Subsequently, Dr. Dawe left England in disgust, and now practices in Connecticut.

His article deals with the experience of doctors and patients under the Health Service, and it is a sorry story indeed. Doctors are fined for prescribing drugs they believe their patients need, but which are not on the government's official list. In order to earn even a modest living, a doctor must handle an excessively large number of patients. There is a heavy burden of paper work, taking up time that should be given to practice. Hospitals are overloaded, simply because they are "free"—that is, supported by taxation—and so patients, particularly elderly ones, are shuttled off to them instead of being cared for at home by their families.

So it goes, with Dr. Dawe, citing chapter and verse. The sum total is a serious downgrading of the medical service available to the majority of English people.

Dr. Dawe warns of the grave dangers that lie in proposed congressional bills to give our own government substantial powers and responsibilities over medical care. His eloquent conclusion: "In this country I have found freedom of action and professional choice. Now I feel I am practicing in the best existing system in the world. It is not perfect. But we are striving to make it better. And the best medical care can be given only in the system where a doctor is not a government clerk but an individual with professional dignity and freedom."

Other nationally recognized private colleges and universities include MacMurray and Illinois at Jacksonville; Northwestern, with campuses at both Evanston and Chicago; University of Chicago; Loyola and DePaul in Chicago; Monmouth College at Monmouth; Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington and Blackburn at Carlinville.

then be sitting in his place and stand, at the Court House in Waukegan, Illinois, and will then and there apply for an order on such petition directing that a tax deed issue conveying said real estate to the undersigned, that a writ of assistance be granted to put the undersigned into possession of said real estate, and for such other and further relief as may be necessary or desirable; at which time and place you may appear if you so desire.

Dated this 16th day of October, A. D. 1961.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

POSITIONING YOUR INFANT

By Kenneth S. Shepard, M.D.
Director, Well Baby Clinics
Northwestern University School of Medicine

When first born, an infant assumes a "position of comfort." This is the intra-uterine posture. Many infants actively resist efforts to alter this position and when released promptly reassume their position of comfort.

Early in life, an infant develops a preferred attitude that is not related to this "position of comfort." It is important that a mother be aware of this so that she may avert certain, though usually temporary, variations in body contour or position.

The infant who is permitted to lie continuously on his back may flatten the back of his head. If an infant, who lies on his back, always turns his head in the same direction, a flattening of the side of the head may result.

Should the infant's position be changed to abdomen-lying after the side of the head has been flattened, he will continue to affect the same position, producing a lateral elongation of the skull. In most instances, however, these variations from normal skull contour are corrected spontaneously soon after the infant starts to sit up.

From the time of birth, a full-term healthy infant can, when lying face downward, lift his head and turn it from one side to the other. For this reason, it is frequently advised that the infant be placed on his abdomen. The infant quickly learns to prefer this position, and many babies are unable to sleep unless so placed.

Since the baby who is placed on his abdomen will usually lie in a frog position, there are some who fear that the thigh bones may turn out and externally rotate at the hips and that pressure may be exerted on the knee, the heel and the ankle.

There is no need for concern as the rotation of the hips is corrected quickly when the infant begins to stand and walk. The pressure on the heel and the ankle is also self-correcting.

Remembering that the infant is a person who is lying in bed practically all the time, and mindful of his strong tendency to develop a position of preference, it is advised that his position be changed from time to time.

One suggested routine is that at night the infant lie on his abdomen, while during part of the day he may lie on his back and then be propped alternately on one side and the other.

Mrs. Robert Lubkeman, Route 4, Box 299, Antioch, has been appointed chairman for Antioch in the annual 53-minute March on Cerebral Palsy to be held Sunday, Jan. 14, in 151 communities of the Metropolitan Chicago area.

Inside Antioch High

By Mike Brooks

On Tuesday, October 17, the Student Council of Antioch Township High discussed recommendations to be made to next year's council on the Homecoming Activities. It was decided that the council executive board would meet to suggest solutions to the various problems which arose this year.

On Thursday, October 19, the Northwest Suburban Conference Subdistrict Student Council Convention was held at Lake Forest. The theme for this year's Fall Conference was "Student Council—The Communicative Link." The council members representing Antioch were Bud Dittman, Janet Polley, Joe Ellis, Carole Plotke, Suraya Brook, Julie Nissen, Dave Cardiff, Bob Krueger, Jane Lassen, Steve Chandler, and Dean Denman.

The representatives from the area schools were divided into 11 discussion groups. A report of what each of the schools were doing was made in each group.

The rest of this week's column will be found on the editorial page of this paper.

The number of professional and trade persons who must obtain registration certificates to conduct their practices in the state exceeds 250,000.

Senator Byrd of Virginia says: "Deficit spending increases public debt. This accompanied by increasing wages without commensurate increase in productivity, means more and more inflation. We now have both. In 20 years we have lost more than 80 percent of the purchasing power of the dollar. Let us, in all seriousness, ask ourselves: How disastrous will it be if we continue inflation-breeding policies which appear to be on the increase —when our concern should be for return to fiscal responsibility?

According to Chain Store Age, sales in food chains with two or more stores increased 3.6 per cent in a late month compared with the same month of last year. All regions of the country showed increases.

The Fowler Family of Fifteen Will Reside at Mooseheart

Mrs. Mabel Fowler and 14 children of Red Rock, Ont., the largest family ever to be admitted to the Moose Child City, arrived at Mooseheart on Friday, Sept. 1, to take up residence.

"And this," states Leonard Case, membership chairman of the Antioch Moose Lodge, "constitutes 16 concrete reasons why every member of the Loyal Order of Moose should 'Talk Moose' today and every day."

Because Francis W. Fowler was a member in good standing of Nipigon, Ont., Moose Lodge No. 1764 at the time of his death on April 20 of this year, his family was eligible to make application for admission to Mooseheart. Fowler, who was 39 when he was fatally injured in an auto accident, had belonged to the Moose since March 4, 1955, a little more than six years.

Fowler had paid approximately $100 in dues to the Nipigon Lodge. For this investment, his children will spend an aggregate total of 143 years at Mooseheart. Each child will remain at Mooseheart until he has been graduated from Mooseheart High School. The entire cost will be borne by the Moose fraternity.

The Fowler children range in age from 16 years to four months. There are eight boys and six girls. They are: Robert, 16; David, 14; Scott, 13; Fred, 12; Earnest, 11; Vivien, 9; Elizabeth, 8; Doris, 7; Kevin, 6; Donald, 5; Percy, 4; Anne, 2½; Janet, 1½, and the baby, Frances, 4 months.

Mrs. Fowler and her fourteen children arriving at Mooseheart haven't to receive the benefits of their father's membership.

This is the largest family ever to be admitted to Mooseheart. The record was previously held by Mrs. Esther Wuchte, who had 11 chil-

Braddock, Pa., Free Press: "J. C. Penny looked back on nearly 60 years in the business world... and pronounced businessmen now more ethical than ever before."

"This despite charges of collusive bidding, price fixing and deteriorating morals in the business world, says the famed merchandiser, whose name adorns nearly 1,700 stores... What about opportunity today? (he was asked.)"

"It was never better. No boy left home with less bright prospects than I. I was sickly. I had no money. But, he'll tell you, he recognized opportunity."

"I believe opportunity is greater today than in my day," he said. "But you must prepare for it and recognize it."

Antioch Sequoits Battered by RL Panthers

Panther Line Topples Over Antioch Team

By Mike Brooks

Saturday afternoon, the powerful Round Lake Panthers won their fifth straight conference victory by turning back the Antioch Sequoits, 28-0. Bob Perrone scored two of the Panthers' four touchdowns.

Halfway through the first period Round Lake started a drive from their own 37 yd. line. Four successive runs by Boydston moved the ball to Antioch's 28 yd. line. Three, crashing, up the middle plunges placed the ball on the 9 yd. line. A penalty pushed them back to the 24 yd. line. HB Perrone took the pigskin on a journey across the goal line with 2:34 left in the quarter. The attempted extra point was blocked and the score was 6-0.

Antioch received the kickoff, but was unable to move the ball against the strong Round Lake defense. The quarter ended with Antioch punting to Round Lake's 21 yd. line.

The Panthers began another grinding drive early in the second quarter. Earl and Perrone cracked through the middle of the Sequoit line for 18 yds. Then Perrone penetrated deep into the Sequoit territory with a 20 yd. end sweep. With 6:10 to go in the second, Sherman passed to Zepka in the end zone. Perrone added the extra point and the half ended with Round Lake ahead 13-0.

Early in the third quarter Round Lake recovered a fumble on the Sequoits' 37 yd. line. Perrone followed through with a 37 yd. jaunt to paydirt. The extra point attempt was no good and the score was 19-0.

Antioch's only serious offensive threat came late in the third quarter, starting from their own 23 yd. line. Fitch and Pleviak ran for a gain of 11 yds. Pleviak passed to Pogose for 11 more yds. The Sequoits used a little razzle-dazzle for another long gain. Pleviak threw a short pass to Powles, who lateraled to Fitch, who carried to the opposition's 31 yd. line. The threat was dampened when Round Lake recovered an Antioch fumble on the 30 yd. line. At the end of the third quarter the score stood at 19-0.

Only six seconds had passed by in the fourth quarter before Waters crossed the goal line for the Panthers' fourth tally of the afternoon. Boydston passed to Zepka to add the extra point. Round Lake's bulging score now totaled 28.

Late in the final period, the Panthers were again deep in Sequoit territory. Antioch's line held them on the 15 yd. line where they took over the ball. With only two seconds to go, QB Pleviak was tackled in the end zone by Wenerberg for a safety and two more points for Round Lake's mounting score. The final gun sounded and the final score was 28-0.

Antioch's Freshmen and Sophomore teams were victorious in Saturday's action. The Freshmen played Round Lake Saturday morning and won 20-7. The Sophomore game was played previous to the Varsity game. They walked over the Panthers by a score of 26-0.

Next, Saturday evening Antioch takes on a very powerful Lake Forest squad at the high school stadium. The Sophomores take the field at 6:30 and the Varsity at 8:30. This will be the final home game of the season and will be Parents' Night. This should be an enjoyable evening for everyone and the team deserves our support.

Many thanks to Rolf Westberg for his spotting during Saturday's game.

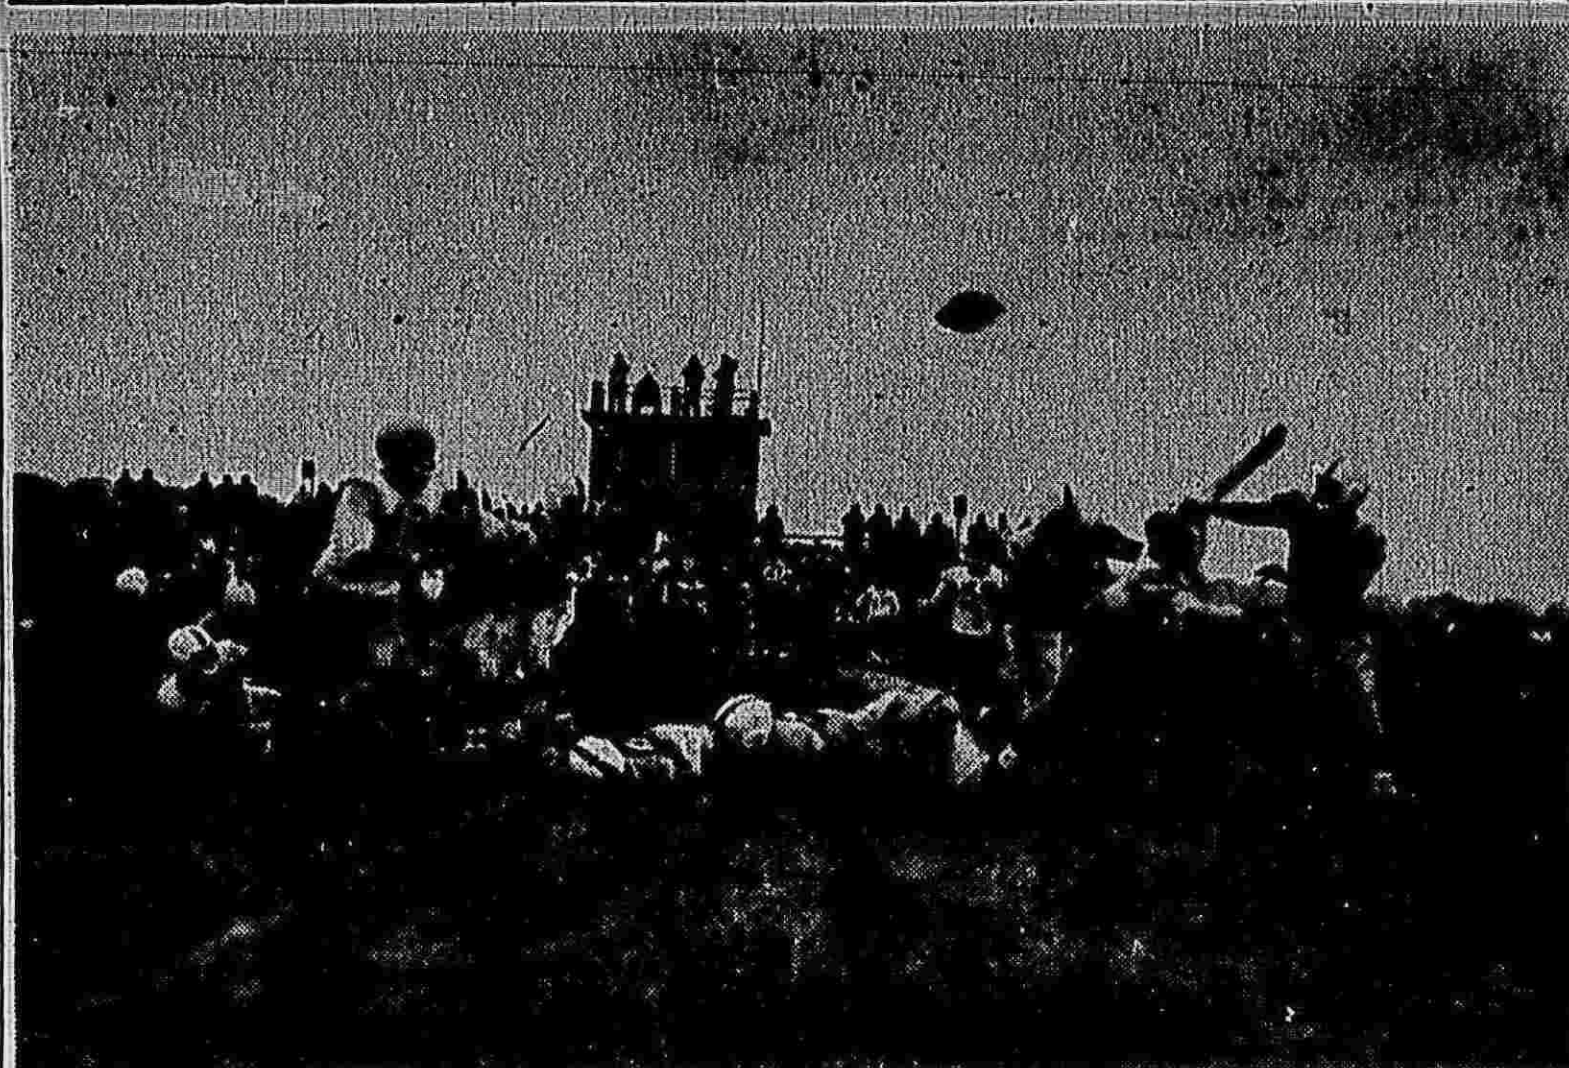

Pittmans Touch Group Undefeated

Don Pyles ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third to lead Pittman Motors to a 19-6 victory over Home Tavern of Waukegan. The victory was the fourth in as many outings for the team and moved them one victory away from the first round championship.

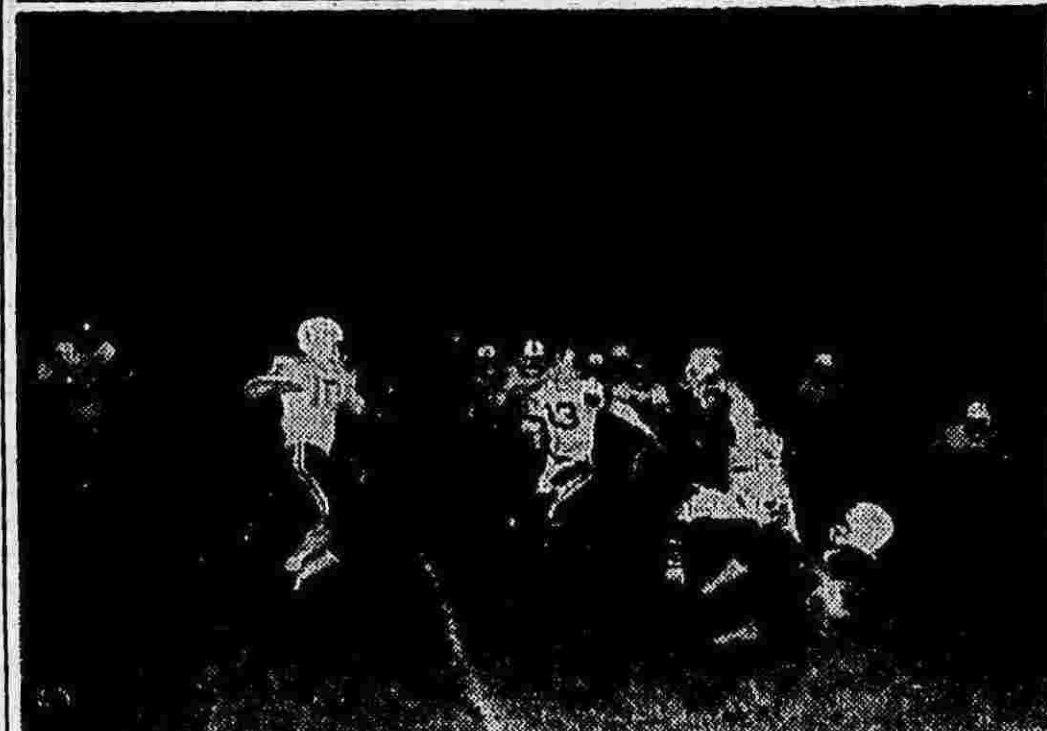

Sunday's game was hard fought from start to finish and displayed a perfect example of team effort. After trailing 6-0 at the end of the first quarter, Don Pyles scored on an 8 yd. run, then passed to Dick Carlucci for the extra point and the half ended 7-0. Late in the third quarter Pyles scored again on a 58 yard end run with a key block from Russ Cote at midfield. With four minutes left in the ball game Pyles rolled out to his right and passed to Chuck Schuth far down field who went in to score the play covering 68 yds. The extra point try failed.

Pittman Motors' defensive unit played outstanding ball, stopping Home Tavern four times inside the 10 yd. line. Manager Dick Carlucci praised the Home Tavern defensive as the best seen this year with a fine quarterback and an outstanding end.

Next Sunday will end the first round games as Pittman Motors

WATCH IT! Antioch quarterback Pleviak tosses a desperate pass to a racing end late in the fourth quarter of the Antioch-Round Lake game. The Antioch attempt failed, however and the Sequoit squad was beaten, 28-0.

Salem Homecoming Friday, Antioch Queen on Throne

Salem Central High School's homecoming is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 27, when the Falcons will play host to Waterford Wolverines. Festivities will begin with a pep session in the afternoon at which classes will present skits. In the evening, after the game, the queen, Judy Sorensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Einer Sorensen of Rural Antioch will be crowned by Vincent Klemko, the football captain. Miss Sorensen will be escorted by Reynold Davis, a former student at Salem.

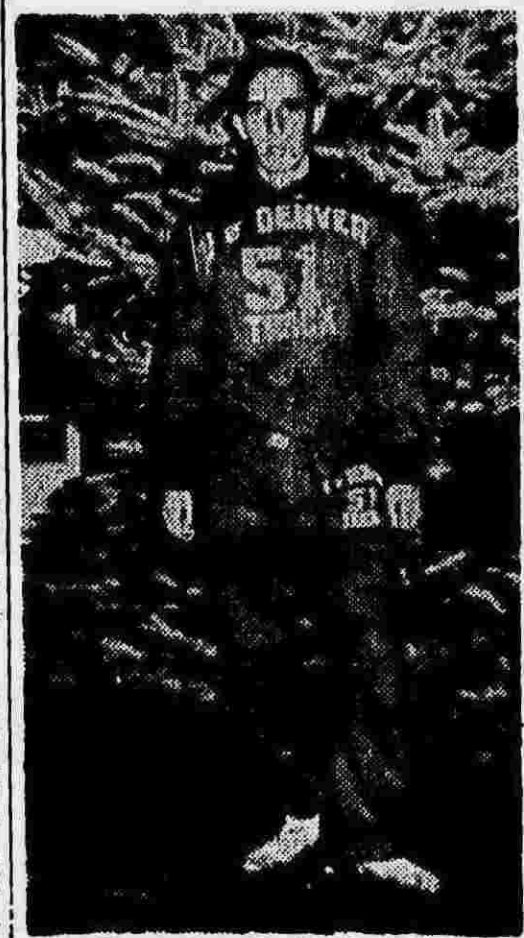

Dancing will continue until 11:30. The grand march will be about 10:30 when the court of honor consisting of a member of each class and her escort will parade before the gathering with the queen.

Cheerleading Clinic
Salem Central Cheerleaders under the direction of Miss Ruth Leetink, physical education teacher will entertain cheerleaders from South-eastern Conference at the first Annual Cheerleading Clinic on November 11 at Central High. Dinner will be served and a welcome given by Athletic Director Dormund Grams. Demonstrations of techniques by Miss Rita Reidy and open discussion led by Diane Reiter will be part of the program. It is hoped to make this event an annual affair.

Farm Progress Day at Beloit
About 40 boys of the Junior and Senior Ag Classes went to Beloit to take part in Farm Progress Day. Boys visited the Dougan Farm and the Don Long Farm where they saw old and new methods of harvesting. Featured was Corn of Today and Yesterday. Soil Conservation Practices were noticed on both farms. It was a well-worth trip for the boys who are studying these things today.

Jaguar Racer Triumphs 1st

Walt Hansgen became the "winningest" driver in Road America history this year.

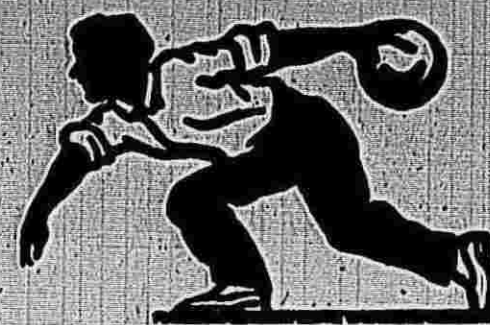

The 41-year-old Westfield, New Jersey sports car veteran won twice in September, driving a Formula Junior Cooper and then a high-powered Maserati to Saturday and Sunday victories, to bring his total of trophies to seven which he has won since 1957. His previous triumphs were scored in D, E, and Lister-type Jaguars.

Jim Jeffords of Milwaukee, idle during 1961, still is the next most successful driver at Road America with six victories between 1957 and '60; while Carl Haas of Lincolnwood, Ill., and Chuck Rickert of Indianapolis each have five class titles. Haas won two in 1961.

take on Jimmie John's Tap, who have a 2-1-1 record this year.

It was Maserati's year at Road America in 1961.

The Italian-crafted sports cars won both the International June Sprint and "500" features to join Jaguar as the three-times feature event winner. Both still trail Ferrari, however, as the most successful cars to race at Elkhart Lake; five times in the 13 feature races held since 1955, a Ferrari has taken the checkered flag. Only other winners have been a Lister Corvette and Scarab.

Porsches have won more "class" races than any other car at Road America since this road-racing course was built in 1955. The little German sports cars have been the best car in their class 24 times.

That is one better than the 23 class triumphs achieved by Ferraris—and came about because a Porsche was driven to victory in four events during 1961 competition.

Other top class winners include Alfa with 15, Corvette 14, Ace Bristol 11, Jaguar and Maserati 9, Elva 8, Austin Healey 6 and Osca, Mercedes, and Lola 5 each. In all, 36 cars have won in their classes over the years.
